To whom it may concern

Absence of various substances & compliance to several EU directives

Dear Madam or Sir,

We hereby confirm, that we consider our glass fiber products

- CS (Chopped strands)
- MF (Milled fibers)

as compliant to the requirements of the following regulations:

- 2000/53/EC (End-of-Life Vehicles Regulation) including amendments until today
- 2011/65/EC on the restriction of the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment ("RoHS-Directive") including amendments until today
- 2005/1895/EC (non-use of dedicated epoxy compounds)
- 67/548/EEC relating to the classification, packaging and labeling of dangerous substances and its amendments
- 2003/53/CE
- 1005/2009/EC
- 94/62/EC relating to the packaging of our products.
- CONEG

Substances restricted by these above named directives and furthermore the following substances have according to our best state of knowledge not intentionally been added to the final production step of our glass fibers (including sizings) and are not known to be present except technically unavoidable ubiquitous traces:

Heavy metals, Asbestos, Phthalates, substances of animal origin, substances with a risk of BSE / TSE, GMO-material, PFAS, PFOA, PFOS, Acrylamide,
